The Legislature.

The Senate Friday passed a number of important measures, including the bill imposing a penalty upon witnesses for running away from a legislative investigating committee or grand jury. As the result of Senator George's charge that the State prisons are not self-sustaining, as stated in the Commissioners' report, a resolution was adopted calling on the commission for a detailed account of the expense.

Gov. Beckham has signed the bill extending the common school term to six months, and the bill reappropriating the Sheriffs' revenue in order to meet the expenses entailed by the extension. He also signed the bills reappropriating the appellate districts, appropriating $75,000 for improvements at the Western Asylum for the insane, and repealing certain portions of the exemption laws.

The House, by a large majority passed the Klair Bill, No 263, over an adverse committee report. It changes the names of the three State asylums to the "Eastern State Hospital," "Central State Hospital" and "Western State Hospital."

Only two members voted against the Lochy bill, requiring the owners and helpers of livery stables to keep a register for the protection of horses and conveyances, and make it a misdemeanor to hire a horse under a fictitious name or to use it for a greater distance or time than indicated in the register.

The Hughes bill, providing that the license tax for a stud horse, jack or bull shall not exceed $50, was tabled.

Mr. Bourne's bill, No. 281, reducing from $2 to $1 the Sheriff's fee for advertising the delinquent tax list, was passed.
Mr. Adams' bill, authorizing sixth-class towns to allow the sheriff of the county to collect the town taxes was passed.

The Kentucky Legislature will adjourn sine die one week from to-day.
Most of the important legislation was disposed of during the first month of the session. No new bills introduced now can be passed.

Should Be Released.

The press of Kentucky has been discussing the past week whether or not that Lewellyn Sharp, who killed the two men for stealing in Fayette county should not be severely punished. No one will for a moment doubt but that the taking of a human life is something terrible. But, when a man starts to steal, he not only realizes that he is doing wrong, but if necessary he would commit murder to hide the theft. The farmer, who goes out to protect his property against the thief, is shot down like a brute. Again, if the farmer attempts to stop the thief, and gives him any showing whatever, he probably loses his life as the result. There is not a class of people in the world who are as conservative as the farmer, and yet we will venture to say that there could not be selected in Kentucky twelve farmers, who would convict Sharp, but on the contrary would release him.

FOR RENT.—Lower flat with water. Private entrance. If Miss R. DOHRER.

The Spirit of Progress.

The Klair bill, requiring the attendance at school of all children between the ages of seven and fourteen, is now before the Senate, having passed the House practically without opposition. Should the bill become a law, the State will have gone far toward the full performance of her duty in the education and protection of her children. The successful operation of the Child Labor law, passed at the last session of the General Assembly, and the generous provision made at the present session in the extension of the school term and the adoption of the School Book Bill, all mark advances in the work of building for a better citizenship. The Klair bill is in keeping with this spirit of progress.

FRESH ROASTED.—I always keep on hand a fresh lot of fresh roasted peanuts.
J. E. CRANEN.

Disgusted at Low Prices.

Disgusted at the low price of tobacco and contending that they cannot afford to raise the weed at the prevailing price without the loss of money, the farmers of Todd county, Ky., propose to take the bull by the horns, so to speak, and operate things for themselves.

The plan that is being formulated by some of the most prominent planters of that county, is to establish a factory at Elkton, the county seat, for the purpose of prizing and shipping their own tobacco.
They propose to employ their own labor and place themselves in a position to ship or to hold their tobacco as they think best.

SUES LEXINGTON HERALD.—Beach Hargis, son of Judge James Hargis, filed a $5,000 damage suit against the Morning Herald, of Lexington, for alleged damages sustained by reason of the Herald having published a story to the effect that the Town Marshal of Jackson and placed in jail, and was tried and fined.

NOTED MINSTREL DEAD.—Tom Mc-Intosh, a pioneer colored comedian of the country, died of apoplexy on train Saturday, while entering Urbana, O. At the time of his death he was a member of Gus Hill's company, "Smart Set," which was en route from Indianapolis to Columbus. McIntosh was sixty-three years old and was born in Lexington, Ky.

SLANDER CASE CONTINUED.—The case of Miss Nellie Patten against Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Shipp for $10,000 each for alleged slander, in Harrison Circuit Court, was continued until the May term of court on account of inability of C. J. Bronston and John R. Allen, of Lexington, attorneys in the case, to attend.

Alpheus North, charged with murdering his stepfather on Christmas day, was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary.
